

MAER-Net Colloquium 2026

Chemnitz University of Technology
Germany

September 23-25, 2026

About the Colloquium

Meta-Analysis of Economics Research (MAER-Net) is a global network of scholars dedicated to advancing economics, social sciences and other disciplines through meta-analysis. Its annual colloquium brings together scholars to exchange insights, advance new approaches and strengthen cooperation.

Keynote speakers

Anna Dreber Almenberg
Johan Björkman Professor of Economics
Stockholm School of Economics

Jan C. Minx
Head of the Evidence for Climate
Solutions Working Group
Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research

Call for Presentations

We encourage submissions of new papers, works in progress, tools under development, and especially research by PhD students and female scholars. Submit your abstract (may be up to four pages long) to maer2026@wiwi.tu-chemnitz.de by June 1st, 2026. Registration will open after selection of presentations.

Program Committee

Sebastian Gechert (Chemnitz University of Technology)
Jerome Geyer-Klingenberg (University of Augsburg)
Tom Stanley (Deakin University)

Tomáš Havránek (Charles University)
Bianka Mey (Chemnitz University of Technology)
Mehmet Ugur (Greenwich University)

MAER Network
Meta-Analysis of Economics Research

Please find further information on our website:

<https://www.maer-net.org/2026-chemnitz>

across EUROPEAN UNIVERSITY
FOR CROSS-BORDER
KNOWLEDGE SHARING

Co-funded by the European Union

DFG Deutsche
Forschungsgemeinschaft